

PSN welcomes Jo Sheils to the team

From this month, Jo has joined the PSN team as the Neonatal Clinical Nurse Consultant.

Jo has worked at the Royal Hospital for Women (RHW), Randwick for the past 20 years. Her most recent position was Nurse Educator in the Newborn Care Unit.

Jo has a strong interest in resuscitation including the use of simulation to increase learning and the care of surgical infants. She is passionate about placing families in the centre of the care team with Family Integrated Care.

Jo has travelled yearly to the highlands of PNG with a team from RHW to teach and support the staff with the care of newborns, resuscitation and infection control and prevention especially hand hygiene.

Jo can be contacted on 02 9382 0191 or Joanne.Sheils1@health.nsw.gov.au
